

Jen Johnson

Hello! My name is Jen, and I have a background in Special Education, Educational Administration, and Human Services. I hold a Bachelor's degree in Early Childhood Special Education and Early Childhood Education, as well as a Master's degree and an Education Specialist (Ed.S.) degree in Educational Leadership. I also have experience in case management. Outside of my professional life, I'm part of a blended family with four children, and being together is what matters most to us. We love making memories (and embracing a little chaos along the way), whether we're playing games, enjoying the outdoors, or getting creative with 3D printing.
